

Bendigo tunnels Fortuna Villa Dale 31 3 2021

Hey Dale

I saw this article and it got my interest. It says there is a well documented tunnel reaching from the Central Deborah gold mine all the way to Eaglehawk. Unfortunately, the podcast that came with it is no longer available. I'm tempted to ask the station for another link but not sure I want anyone to know I'm checking out the area. Radio stations have a bad reputation for paedophiles which I have personal experience of.

As soon as I saw the Fortuna Villa I thought of the Disney castle and the castle it was originally modelled on, Bavaria's Neuschwanstein Castle.

Secret tunnels of Bendigo

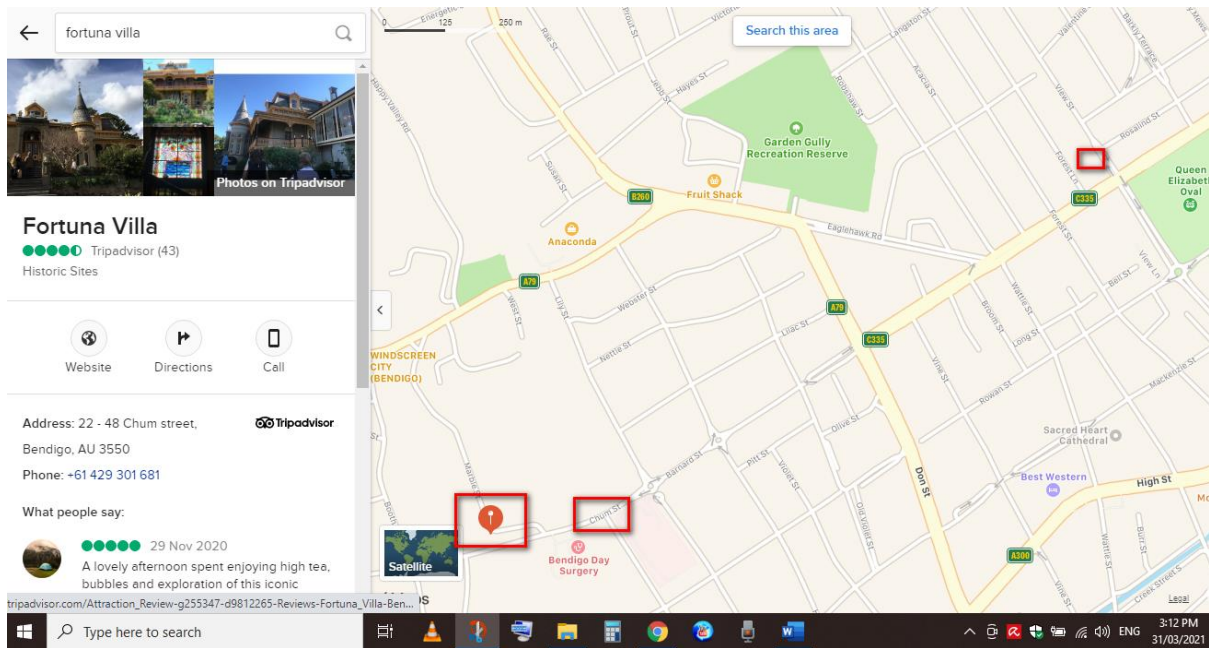

AI chat with Paul Banks 6 December 2016

From the article: 'You don't have to spend much time in Bendigo before you hear whispers of secret tunnels going from and leading to iconic locations. And while there's plenty of confirmed gold mining tunnels under Bendigo (including one that leads from Central Deborah all the way to Eaglehawk), not so many of the 'secret' ones have been officially confirmed...

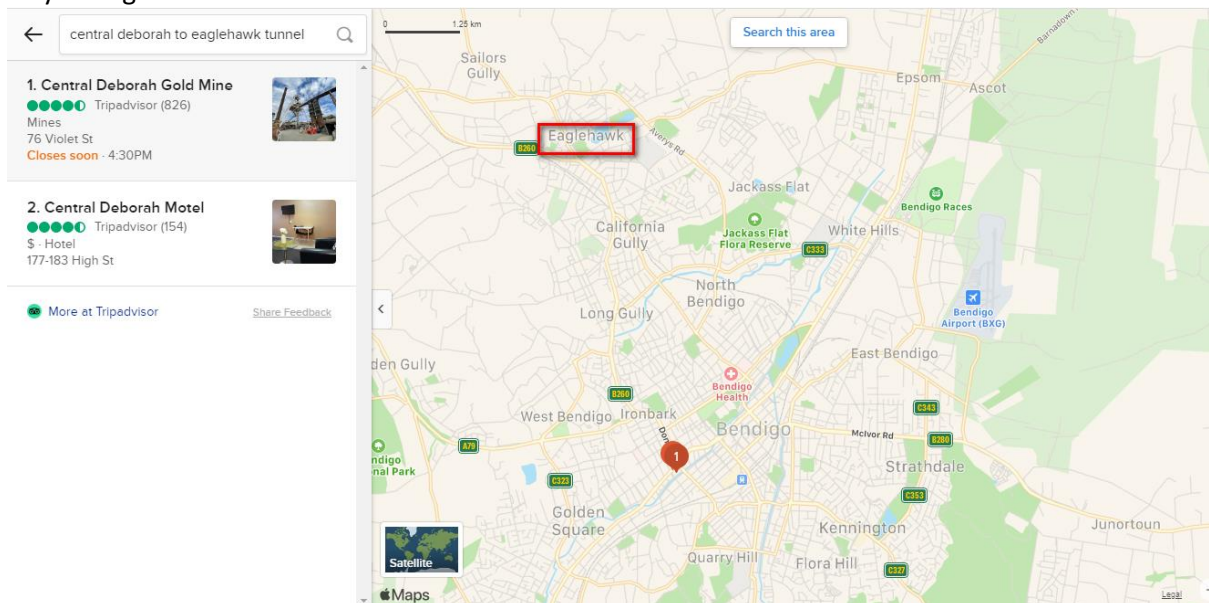

...until this morning.

In chatting to the Star Fm Breakfast Show today, Paul Banks from Fortuna Villa revealed that there was a lot more happening under the grand building than first expected':

Fortuna Villa in relation to Dr Harry Kindy on View St. The villa is on Chum Street. This street name really stuck out to me in my earlier dig on the area.

'confirmed gold mining tunnels under Bendigo (including one that leads from Central Deborah all the way to Eaglehawk)':

If there is a tunnel reaching from Deborah to Eaglehawk, then that is one long tunnel!

Well this is disturbing – Mickey Mouse Bushland Reserve right near Fortuna Villa?!! Puke! And not far off is Violet street Primary school. Freemasons/Rosicrucians use colours in relation to children for programming purposes. I’m wondering now if there are school excursions to Fortuna Villa. I’m also disturbed by the St John Of God name for the local Hospital. Obviously, St John was a saint before Oprah’s friend and convicted child trafficker and mass rapist adopted the name. But the juxtaposition with this castle and Mickey Mouse reserve is creepy. The Victoria Hill Mining Reserve nearby could also indicate the tunnels under the Fortuna Villa travel in that direction.

Golden City Baptist church is close to the villa and has what appears to be a gnostic cross or Egyptian Ankh in the pathways across from the church.

Red rectangles indicate more palm trees (researchers tell me this is an indicator for tunnels.) Green rectangle out the front indicates a monolith. The circular lawn formation that is also marked is similar to the one at the Forest Creek gold mine. Not sure what this symbolises.

Forest Creek circular formation. Must mean something because it would take time to maintain these circular gardens. Both circular formations are of similar dimensions as well.

Fortuna Villa - Cherubs on roofline and ships port type windows on turret.

Eagle wings on roof? Wish I could see what is on the top of the monolith.

Rising sun. The vines or whatever they are that are depicted here on the window are not symmetrical. The vine on the right interferes with the aesthetic of the rising sun. This is a weird thing to do unless it has some form of symbolism. This could be a map of sorts. The ocean depicted could indicate, along with the portal windows, that the villa acts under maritime law. Meaning sex with children is legal there.

Another depiction of a naked child as the fountain in the above shot. Fortuna villa are using the masonic key as their logo on their wine glasses.

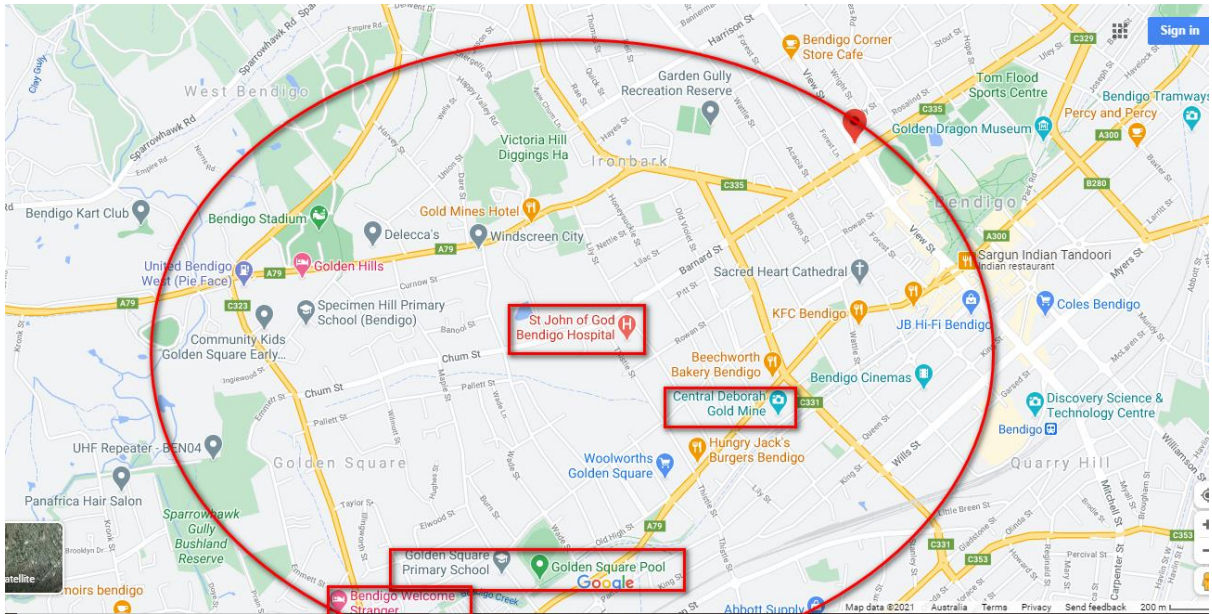

Masonic wood wall keys compared to Fortuna logo.

Alice in Wonderland 'Eat Me' reference on tea cake. Also note the butterfly symbol. The spoon might also have significance.

Much of the Bendigo places of interest seem to fall within this ellipse.

Big hill tunnel and Elphinstone tunnels are railway tunnels of around 400m in length and run from 'main Melbourne to Bendigo railway'.
